

DEPARTMENT OF ECOLOGY & EVOLUTIONARY BIOLOGY

Spring 2014 Seminar Series

The Nature Conservancy's North America
Science Team
Randy Swaty – Ecologist
The Nature Conservancy

Randy joined TNC in 2002. He grew up in little rock, AR and received his BS/MS at northern arizona university in flagstaff. His scientific specialties span spatial scales, ranging from mycorrhizal ecology to landscape-scale planning. Randy's ecological work has spanned geographies as well from the southwestern and great lakes regions of the US to tasmania and latin america. Currently randy works to develop vegetation models and to apply LANDFIRE products to land management issues. He lives in marquette, MI.

Friday, March 14, 2014; Room 307, SERF; 3:30 - 4:30PM.
Pre-talk reception: 3:00 PM in Dabney 568