COURSE DESCRIPTION

Comparative Animal Behavior Laboratory is designed to introduce students to theories, research methods, data analyses, written and spoken presentation, and ethical issues related to the study of animal behavior. There will be studies with animals in both field and classroom settings. A key requirement of the course will be student research projects, so individual initiative and motivation will be necessary to success in this course.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND READING ASSIGNMENTS

The schedule and reading assignments contained in this syllabus are subject to change (though I will keep as close to the schedule as possible). You are responsible for all announcements concerning changes in the course outline, readings, assignments, exams, and other matters made during class periods whether or not you are in attendance when those announcements are made. Reading assignments for each class are listed in the course outline below. Much of the material of use to you as assigned or supplemental readings or exercises will be available on the Online @ UT website for the course (<http://online.utk.edu/>).

COURSE OBJECTIVES By the end of the semester, students will be able to:

- use scientific reasoning to interpret behavior [Scientific Inquiry and Critical Thinking]
- engage in innovative and integrative thinking and problem-solving [Scientific Inquiry and Critical Thinking]
- interpret, design, and conduct basic research [Scientific Inquiry and Critical Thinking]
- demonstrate effective writing for different purposes [Communication]
- interact effectively with others [Communication]
- enhance teamwork capacity [Professional Development]

ASSESSMENT OF LEARNING We will assess how well course objectives are reached with:

- reading assessments (short quizzes over assigned readings)
- midterm (test over assigned reading and material covered in class)
- research team paper and presentation (written and oral communication of research projects)
- participation (student-based essays of student involvement in projects, in-class assessments)

NAME AND PRONOUN ACCOMMODATIONS

If you use a name and/or pronouns other than what is in the course roll, please email me with the name and/or pronouns that you would like me to use and I will be glad to accommodate this request.

DISABILITY SERVICES

Students who have a disability that requires accommodation(s) should make an appointment with the Office of Disability Services (974-6087) to discuss their specific needs as well as schedule an appointment with me during my office hours.

GRADING

READING ASSESSMENTS We will begin the semester with reading assessments in 6 classes, including the Nov 07 class. Reading assessments will be short (roughly 15-min) quizzes containing multiple-choice and short answer questions about the assigned readings, and will each be worth 20 points. Your final reading assessment grade in the class will be worth 100 points. Your grade will be calculated from your five assessments with the highest grades (i.e., you get to drop the reading assessment with the lowest score.)

MIDTERM On September 23 we will have our midterm exam, which will comprise short answer and essay questions based on readings and in-class material. The midterm is worth 100 points.

RESEARCH TEAM PAPER AND PRESENTATION RESEARCH TEAM MANUSCRIPT (80 points). Beginning in mid-November, various drafts of your team's study project manuscript will be due. The final draft of the paper is due by 0800 on Monday 28 Nov. RESEARCH TEAM PRESENTATION (20 points). On the day of our scheduled final exam period, each research team will give a formal Powerpoint presentation of their project. Information about the expectations for presentations will be provided toward the end of the semester.

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION I do not normally take attendance in the classes I teach, but will do so in 459. We will be covering a lot of material and a lot of ground in this class, and for everyone to be up to speed each day to maximize our time together, regular attendance in necessary. RESEARCH TEAM ASSESSMENTS By Friday 02 Dec., I want the undergraduates from each research team to send me a one-page document that assesses the contributions, strengths, and weaknesses of their graduate student coordinator(s), and I want the graduate student coordinator(s) from each research team to send me a one-page document that assesses the contributions, strengths, and weaknesses of each undergraduate researcher on the team. These documents will serve as part of the attendance and participation grade in the course. The total attendance and participation grade is worth 100 points.

POINT BREAKDOWN

400 point scale:	Reading Assessments	= 100
	Midterm	= 100
	Research Team Paper & Presentation	= 100
	Attendance & Participation	= 100

>93% A	90-92% A-	87-89% B+	83-86% B	80-82% B-	77-79% C+	73-76% C
	70-72% C-	67-68% D+	63-66% D	60-62% D-	<60% F

ADDITIONAL GRADUATE STUDENT PROJECT The graduate students in the class will have an additional assignment that will be part of their Attendance and Participation grade in the course. This will likely be a library review of behavior journals and should be informative to us all and not overly time-consuming. I will describe this more in class.

ACADEMIC CONDUCT If you have not already done so, you should consult the "Academic Policies" section of your UT 2016-2017 Undergraduate (or Graduate) Catalog and the "Academic Affairs" and "Academic Conduct" sections of the HillTopics 2016-2017 Student Handbook. Briefly, by all means work with others in the class to learn the material – a great way to know if you have learned the material is whether you can successfully teach it to someone else. However, when it comes time to work on material that will be graded individually (reading assessments, midterm), do your own work. Understand the consequences if you are caught cheating or being involved in misconduct – at minimum, a 0 on the graded work; and likely an "F" in the class.
